Let's Start!

What does a rubber tapper do?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- What unusual jobs can you think of?
- What do the people who have these jobs do every day?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about ecological issues.
- I can express a goal or a purpose.
- I can talk about routine activities.

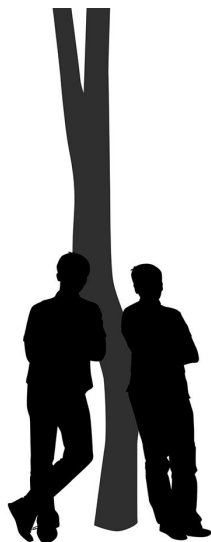

Let's Explore!

John is visiting a rubber plantation while he's on holiday in Brazil!
Rubber tappers have unusual skills!

* You learn "skills" by training at work and getting experience.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Miguel: I'm a rubber tapper. I tap trees in the rainforest. My day begins early. I tap the trees to get the latex, or natural rubber. It flows freely in the cool morning air.
- John: How do you collect the latex?
- Miguel: I cut grooves into the bark to let the latex flow. Then, I attach a small cup to the tree to catch it. I tap 350 trees a day.
- John: Do many people tap trees?
- Miguel: No, not many people tap trees now. The rainforest is disappearing. The number of rubber trees is small. My children go to school to learn other skills.
- John: I would love to go to watch you tap trees.
- Miguel: I enjoy taking people into the forest to see where I work.
- John: That sounds wonderful.

Let's Practice!

Why is Miguel tapping the tree?

Instructions: Select the infinitive of purpose in each sentence.

1. I tap the trees to get the latex, or natural rubber.
2. I would love to go to watch you tap trees.
3. I enjoy taking people into the forest to see where I work.
4. I cut grooves into the bark to let the latex flow.
5. Then, I attach a small cup to the tree to catch it.

Let's Practice!

What is a rubber tapper's daily routine?

Instructions: Read the sentences. Fill in the blank with the missing word. Use: tap trees, begins, a day, people tap, collect.

1. I _____ in the rainforest.
2. My day _____ early.
3. I tap 350 trees _____.
4. No, not many _____ trees now.
5. How do you _____ the latex?

Learning Points

Infinitives of Purpose

Infinitives are the structure to + verb, like to go or to see.

You use the infinitive of purpose to explain why the action happens.

Action	Purpose (Why)
tap the trees	to get the latex
to go	to watch you tap trees
taking people into the forest	to see where I work
I cut grooves into the bark	to let the latex flow
I attach a small cup to the tree	to catch the latex

Examples:

- Go to the store to buy some milk.
- I'm going to the store to get some ice cream.

The Simple Present Tense

You use the Simple Present tense to talk about habits and routines. These are things that you do frequently or every day.

Examples:

- I cut grooves into the bark to let the latex flow.
- I tap the trees to get the latex.
