Let's Start!

Walk into the rainforest! Feel the damp air!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about directions to places in a limited range of social situations.

With your partner:

- What do you know about the rainforest?
- What plants and animals do you think you'd find in a rainforest?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about places and locations.
- I can give extended warnings, recommendations, or advice.
- I can tell someone where something is located.

Let's Explore!

Is John going to hike into the rainforest? Let's see!

* You go "into" an enclosed space like a room or a forest.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

John: Tell me about the rainforest, Hannah. Is there a trip you recommend?
Hannah: If you want to see the rainforest, sign up for the Amazon Orientation.
John: Oh? Why?
Hannah: Well, if you want to see the rainforest up close, go with a group.
John: Where do you go?
Hannah: You go up into the forest. Then you go south, away from the equator.
John: The equator?
Hannah: The Amazon River is below the equator. So, you hike toward the south.
John: Where's the camp?
Hannah: It's on top of a hill. It's high above the trees.
John: It sounds amazing!
Hannah: If I have time, I go with the group. There is nothing like it. There are so many trees and flowers!
John: If you can go on the next tour, let me know!

Let's Practice!

If you go to the rainforest, take me with you!

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

Let's Practice!

Where is it located?

Instructions: Underline the words related to nature. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your partner.

1. The Amazon River is below the equator.
2. So, you hike toward the south part of the jungle.
3. It's on top of a hill.
4. It's high above the trees.
5. You go up into the forest.

Extension Activity

Let's think about locations! Make some flashcards!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Buy some index cards. Cut them in half.
- Find pictures of geographical locations, like a rainforest.
- Glue or draw the pictures on one side of the card.
- Write the name of the location/place on the opposite side and describe it.
- Make up 10 cards.
- Make sentences about the locations with a partner.

e.g. The Amazon is the most important rainforest in the world.
- group (noun): a number of people who do something together
e.g. Travel into the rainforest with a group.
- away from (preposition): in the other direction
e.g. Walk south, away from the equator.
- camp (noun): an area to stay overnight outside or in cabins
e.g. The camp we stay in is high in the mountains.
- equator (noun): the division of the Earth around the center
e.g. Coffee grows near the equator.
- There's nothing like it. (expression): a general expression of praise for something e.g. The rainforest? There's nothing like it!

Learning Points

Geographical Locations

When you talk about locations, you need specific words.

Word	Image	Word	Image
hill		camp
equator		rainforest
river		trees

Examples:

- The rainforests are all near the equator.
- Many rivers flow through the rainforests.
- You take a tour and stay at a camp on a hill.

Learning Points

The Zero Conditional

You use the zero conditional to talk about general truths.

There are two parts to the sentence. One part is the condition. The other part is the result.

Form:

If + the Simple Present tense, the Simple Present Tense

If I have time, I go to the cinema.

The condition is have time. The result is go to the cinema.

Condition	Result
If you want to see the rainforest up close,	go with a group.
If you like trees and flowers,	the rainforest is the place to visit!
